TABLEAU 1, DOWAR OF SHEIK ILDERIM IN THE ORCHARD OF PALMS.

er—in Allah's name! And may His name be praised, I have thee at last beneath my roof."

By his slaves, comes to the dowar of Sheik Ilderim to acknowledge Ben-Hur as the son of the partly recognized Ben-Hur in their encounter in the grove of Daphne, but was not certain until the story of the Roman tribune, Arrius, and the galley slave he had adopted after the battle with the leads Messala to post on the walls of Antioch an announcement that Ilderim's driver is "Ben-Hur." This is the proof of identity to inflame popular prejudice against him on account of his race. He hastens to acknowledge Ben-Hur as his master.

MADAME ADELINA PATTI

Comes to the Vendome, at Nashville, Monday, Feb. 1st.

What song ever written has gone as deep into the heart or drawn humanity as close together with its irresistible spell of melody as "Home Sweet Home." It might almost be called the heart of melody, the organ of harmony that gives life to all else of music.

It is happy knowledge that Madame Adelina Patti who gives her farewell concert in Nashville on Monday evening, February 1st, will sing "Home Sweet Home" as one of the numbers on the programme. It is worth traveling miles to hear, and it is certain that many will travel miles to hear the Diva, for already inquiries for seats are coming into the Vendome from various parts of Tennessee for her concert which will be given at Nashville's celebrated Tabernacle. It is pleasant to think that the last time Madame Patti sings in Nashville can be remembered as one of the most exquisite bits of singing ever heard by the people of this city.

This greatest of all singers contends that to sing "Home Sweet Home" properly, takes more concentrated effort, and more voice than to give forth the most florid series of cadenzas. Let those therefore, who hear Madame Patti sing this famous song be grateful, for they will probably never hear it again in such a manner.

Tickets can be ordered now by addressing W. A. Sheetz, Nashville, Tenn. Prices $2, $3, $4 and $5. Check or money order must accompany orders for tickets.

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial (bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c).

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c.

Montague-Sugg.

Mr. Claude Montague, of Shawneetown, Ill., and Miss Lora Sugg, of Madisonville, were married in the presence of relatives and a few friends at Madisonville Saturday morning at 6 o'clock. Elder S. F. Fowler of the Christian church performed the ceremony in his usual impressive manner. The happy couple accompanied by Mr. B. C. Mitchell and Miss Birnie May Hall took the limited train for Evansville. Mr. Montague was formerly manager of the Cumberland Telephone Co. at this place and has many friends here. Miss Sugg is one of Madisonville's fairest daughters and an estimable young lady.
